Volunteer of the Year Award

The Volunteer of the Year Award recognizes an outstanding NWF affiliate volunteer or someone connected to the affiliate family who gives their time, talents, and service to support the conservation efforts of the Federation.

Nominators will be asked to provide the following information:

I. Describe the nominee’s volunteer work, including length of time served.

II. Describe any specific and noteworthy accomplishments during that time that have benefitted the nominee’s community and supported the mission of the affiliate and of the Federation.

III. Describe how the nominee demonstrates the spirit of volunteerism and has served as an inspiration to others.

IV. Describe the nominee’s history of commitment to conservation.
